

Kyoto – More than Gardens, a Pacific Horticulture Tour

May 9-20, 2012 * Escorted by Allan Mandell

May 9 Wednesday: US/Canada to Osaka, Japan

May 10 Thursday: Kyoto

Cross the international dateline enroute. Upon arrival at Osaka Kansai airport meet tour escort Allan Mandell and travel together to our ryokan in Kyoto. A welcome dinner is included at the ryokan tonight. Balance of evening at leisure. Dinner.

May 11 Friday: Kyoto

What better place to begin our journey than Daitoku-ji, one of the three main Zen temples in Kyoto, and Allan's spiritual home-base in Japan. We will wander at our own pace from one classic Zen garden to the next within the temple complex. We will then be joined by Judith Clancy, longtime resident and author of 'Exploring Kyoto.' Judith will help orient us to this lovely and fascinating city. Meeting her in the north section of town, we'll stroll to view the irises at Ota Pond, noted for its strong Shinto atmosphere. Enjoying our lunch with Judith at a stop along the way, we will continue to Kamigamo Shrine, one of Kyoto's 18 UNESCO World Heritage sites. If the spring bonsai are on display at the nearby Botanical Garden, we may stop in for a visit. Breakfast, Lunch

May 12 Saturday: Kyoto

FREE DAY - Jet-lag usually hits hardest on the second day, so today we will be taking it easy. For those with go-power, we suggest visiting the Miyako Messe traditional crafts museum, the Raku museum, the Textile Center, or any of the various art exhibits around town. For Imperial Garden enthusiasts, consider a visit to Shugaku-in Rikyu or Katsura Rikyu. These world-class gardens require advance reservations, so please let us know if you plan to visit. Another option is the Mikage Festival at Shimogamo Shrine, including elegant dance & music, or perhaps just wander the charming backstreets in the neighborhood of our ryokan. Breakfast.

May 13 Sunday: Kyoto

Today we head south to spend the day in Uji, famed for producing the finest tea in Japan. The outstanding spring azalea bloom at Mimurodo Temple awaits us. From there we will cross the river to nearby Byodo-in with its dream-like Phoenix Hall, a rare example of Heian temple architecture. Enjoy the lovely riverside setting accompanied by azalea and wisteria. Breakfast

May 14 Monday: Kyoto

Today is devoted to three unique water gardens. We begin with Chishaku-in Zen Temple and its intimate pond. We proceed to the quiet Shu Sui Tei teahouse where we can view the garden and pond from inside a traditional teahouse and home. We will picnic on the Imperial Palace grounds before our appointment to see the world-renown Saiho-ji Moss Temple. Maples will be showing their fresh spring foliage as we spend the afternoon wandering stone pathways through this idyllic moss-covered watery paradise. Breakfast.

May 15 Tuesday: Kyoto

FREE DAY – Consider joining Allan in the morning for the Chion-ji flea market, a wild shopper’s paradise on the grounds of a Zen temple. Other suggested activities: visit an Imperial garden (after reserving in advance), rent a bike and ride alongside the Kamo River to the Kyoto Botanic Garden – the conservatory is fantastic - or attend the Aoi Festival, one of Kyoto’s three largest ‘matsuri’ of the year. Dating from the 6th century, the highlight of this festival is the huge and elegant procession that departs from the Kyoto Imperial Palace and proceeds to Kamigamo Shrine via Shimogamo Shrine, including over 500 people dressed in Heian-period classic costumes. Breakfast

May 16 Wednesday: Kyoto

Today we day-trip outside Kyoto to the splendid Miho Museum designed by I.M. Pei. Our morning is filled with fine art and architecture in a stunning rural setting. On our way back we investigate the Shigaraki pottery village for a first-hand encounter with those involved in the high quality ceramic craftsmanship that has continued for generations. And yes, we will have a chance to purchase some of these fine treasures. Breakfast

May 17 Thursday: Kyoto

This is our day for garden-hopping, each destination with its own character. The morning takes us to Shisen-do, a retired samurai’s retreat, with its finely raked sand, tiered levels and rustic woody backdrop. Then we go to the nearby stately and tranquil Manshu-in where we will continue to take in the verdant foliage of the northeastern hills. After lunch we will experience Entsu-ji, a garden famed for ‘capturing alive’ its scenic view. This garden is best enjoyed while sitting quietly on tatami mats, contemplating the ever-changing subtleties within the perfectly proportioned vista as Mt. Hiei floats in the distance. Breakfast.

May 18 Friday: Kyoto

This morning we will explore the stroll gardens of the Heian Shrine. Here we will find a profusion of iris as we wander through four different Meiji-era garden settings. Then it’s on to a private studio beside the Kamo River for a full-afternoon lesson with Shoho Sakai sensei, ikebana master. This is a hands-on experience providing insight into the Japanese aesthetic through the art of flower arranging. Breakfast

May 19 Saturday: Kyoto

Our final day starts with Ginkaku-ji, the Silver Pavilion, and its striking raked sand beds, ponds, and pathways set in the wooded eastern hills. From there we walk to nearby Hakusasonso and enjoy local kaiseki cuisine in a charming garden setting. Multiple courses of seasonal delicacies will be offered in an unhurried fashion, and after a week in Kyoto our senses will be tuned to full appreciation. Your final afternoon is free, visit that special garden you've saved for last, enjoy a lazy bike-ride along the river, stroll through Kyoto to a favorite spot, or shop for fine crafts to take home with you. Breakfast, Lunch.

May 20 Sunday: to USA/Canada

Today we bid farewell to Kyoto. Those departing to the US & Canada will take a shuttle bus to the Osaka Kansai Airport. Or perhaps continue to other destinations in Japan. Breakfast
